“Water crisis is a Health crisis”

WASH has a profound impact on the health of developing societies. More than that, it is the key to the social and economic well-being. Every 90 seconds a child dies from water-related disease. 3.5 million people die annually from water-borne disease – cholera, dysentery, diarrhea and typhoid.

Understand the issues in bringing water to Health Facilities where medical staff lack clean water for maternity and child wards. Learn how Rotarians are taking the lead in eradicating water-borne disease such as Guinea worm, the former scourge of Ghana and other African countries. Understand how we can help to eradicate Malaria and Trachoma, which cause millions to lose their sight.
